
Four-year mean exposure within 1 km; error bars: model-based 95% confidence intervals.

These supplementary REML models are distinct from the primary robust-variance models.